You don't know me as well as you thought
You don't know me that well
You don't see me as clear as you think you see
You don't see me that clearly

I am not what you tell yourself
I am not what you're trying to sell me as I am actually something else you would see
If you looked past your picture of me
If you looked past yourself into me

I don't like all that you think I like
I don't like all that you do
I don't despise everything that you think I do
I don't despise all that you do
